

Art & Environment Committee Members

Art & Environment Committee members help to prepare the worship space for a liturgical season, focusing on the physical surroundings for worship. The worship space, the furnishings and artistic objects are created and/or arranged so that the people can enter fully into the spirit of the season. This committee is significantly different from a “decorating committee” for any other event. Artisans are asked to understand the significance of the seasons of the liturgical year as they relate to the life of Christ.
